Letter to Capt. Lane from S.S. "Sir I delivered your letter to Capt. Tompson"

To Capt Lane
 Sir I delivered your letter to Capt Tompson the last night and he doth apprehend that there is so much difficulty in putting by the meeting & in sending to Andover, and in obtaining the Certainte whether Coronell Perel can attend the meeting at the time appointed, as that it can not be conveniently effected. & Capt Tompson doth rai-ther in chuse to make a journey unto Coronell Tyng & to beg pardon for what is past as being only to prepare something in order to present unto his honor and to indevor to obtaine his company at Aburne. Now if you do think that what Capt Tompson proposeth will not be convenient (for he intends to go to Dunstable a second day) it may may do well to give him your mind in the thing before he goeth. Nothing else at present but remain yourers to serve

 Sir I delivered your letter to Capt Tompson the last night and he doth apprehend that there is so much difficulty in putting by the meeting & in sending to Andover, and in obtaining the Certainte whether Coronell Perel[?] can attend the meeting at the time appointed, as that it can not be conveniently effected. & Capt Tompson doth rather incline to make a journey unto Coronell Tyng & to beg pardon for what is past as being only to prepare something in order to present unto his honor and to indevor to obtaine his company at Aburne. Now if you do
